

ACR Criteria for the Classification of Churg-Strauss Syndrome (CSS), 1990

- Asthma: History of wheezing or diffuse high-pitched expiratory rhonchi.
- Eosinophilia: Eosinophilia >10% on differential white blood cell count.
- Mono- or polyneuropathy: Development of mononeuropathy, multiple mononeuropathies, or polyneuropathy (glove/ stocking distribution) attributable to systemic vasculitis.
- Pulmonary infiltrates, non-fixed: Migratory or transitory pulmonary infiltrates (not including fixed infiltrates). attributable to vasculitis.
- Paranasal sinus abnormality: History of acute or chronic paranasal sinus pain or tenderness or radiographic opacification of the paranasal sinuses.
- Extravascular eosinophils: Biopsy including artery, arteriole or venule showing accumulations of eosinophils in extravascular areas.

Classified as CSS if at least four of six criteria are present

